Wepner pictured the negotiations as moving emoothly until the strikers learned that President McCarter of the ffered and they rejected two weeks ago.

"This plan," said Wepner, "is merely an attempt to throttle the union. We had thought since Tuesday night that it had been withdrawn, and that the main issue between us and the company was the recognition of the union. But when we found out at 6:30 to-night that

So many cars have been attacked and so lenient are the Newark police, in the opinion of the company, that 150 armed deputies were set to riding on cars or guarding strategic points yesterday. In a letter to John R. Flavell, Sheriff of Essex county, Mc. McCarter, president of the Public Service Corporation, said that its employees had been assaulted and the protection in the county had on the whole proved inadequate. He asked and the protection in the county had on the whole proved inadequate. He asked for deputies and the Sheriff sent them cut with revolvers and nightaticks and instructions to see that nobody stopped the movement of cars. They were not the movement of cars. They were not to use their revolvers unless their own lives were in danger.

The strike rioters played horse with the Sheriff's men in Bloomfield avenue, the highway between Newark and Montclair. Every car that tried to get through was blocked and after noon the company did not try to run any cars on that line. The first car hurdled a pile of stone placed on the track in the Silver Lake region, but a crowd of men can after it and swarmed aboard. The three deputy sheriffs on the car were lost in the hubbub. Then the Sheriff sent twenty-two of his men to asked along the avenue and guard the tracks while fourteen others who had been assigned to the Mont clair car house bowled down Bloomfiel avenue on a trolley car. It halted with a jork at Tweifth street because a negro tailed it. Instantly about 100 strikers or their nals swarmed in and around the car and forced the crew to get off. The deputies frew their guns and made threatening remarks, but were swept off their fee and their nightsticks were scattered over the street. The mob then broke some of the car windows and went on its way Marine Workers and Private rejoicing. The truck driver was ar-rested and subjected to sobriety tests. The company then served notices on Sheriff Flavell and Mayor Gillen of Newark that it had learned of threats and attempts to destroy its cars and other property, which these officials were called upon to protect. This was done in order to fix responsibility upon the city and county in damage suits that may arise from the strike.

The strike leaders stoutly insist that they deprecate violence, and on the whole, considering the area affected, there has not been much of it. In all the four days of the strike not as much

Nevertheless it is obvious that the New Jersey strikers or "sympathizers"—some of the stone throwers, window smash Efforts of agents sent to and trolley rope cutters are wearing Newark by the War Labor Board to trolley men's uniforms—are bent on making the running of and riding in trolley cars so uncomfortable that it will not be attempted.

HARBOR STRIKERS

Boat Owners Deadlocked on 8 Hour Day.

NEW CONFERENCE TO-DAY

Report Navigators Will Be Brought From Great Lakes Is Not Credited.

Indications were last night that the harbor strike has settled down to a finish fight between the marine workers and the private boat owners. Efforts of James L. Hughes, Federal conciliator, to arrange a meeting between the parties failed yesterday, and although Mr. Hughes himself has not given up hope there appeared to be little chance of a compromise. The strikers and their employers are apparently hopelessly deadlocked on the question of the eight hour day.

The union leaders declare that since they have won the eight hour day and satisfactory wage increases from the police court yesterday to accuse Barney Railroad Administration and other Gov. Mr. Hughes said last night that the boat owners would meet the masters, mates and pilots to-day at the Maritime Exchange. Officers of the Marine Af-fillation refused to discuss the matter It is certain that telegrams have bee sent to the members of the Masters Mates and Pilots Association to meet the owners, but whether they will show up is a question. It was said that invifations had been extended to members of other unions also. Because the tele grams were sent to individuals and no to union officers the inference was that the boat owners had resolved to treat no more with the men through the officers of the Marine Affiliation.

Color was lent this belief by Mr. Bonynge's declination yesterday to ar-range for the attendance of representa-tives of the boat owners at a round tives of the boat owners at a round tives of the boat owners at a round table talk Mr. Hughes wished to hold to-day Mr. Bouygne told the Federal conciliator that he could not make such arrangements before Manday at the dary dispute with Peru was entirely without foundation.
